BOWERY RULES TAMMANY HALL

(By Gotham Knickerbocker.)

New York, July 20.—These United States often complain of being ruled by Wall street. But there is sometimes just as much reason for complaint of the control of the whole nation by the Manhattan lower East Side. The Bowery district time out of memory has had the say at Tammany Hall, the hall usually dominates the state and at times, the city of New York. The New York delegation is the single greatest force at the Democratic national conventions and even in times of a hostile administration like the present one, Tammany Hall wields a subtle power in Washington.

So the Bowery is and should be of interest to every American citizen. The lower East Side with its 600,000 population in a square mile is more than a curiosity to tourists from the west. Los Angeles and Portland may feel the weight of its hand any day.

Today I wandered down to Fourteenth street for rumors had reached me of a most distressing fight inside the Tiger camp, and quarrel which is troubling the spirits of the master minds in "the organization" as much or more than the trial of Police Lieutenant Becker and its attendant revelations. And the battleground is the old East Side again, with genial old Sheriff Tom Foley. (They still call him that), in the centre of the mix-up and Charley Murphy working his not over overtime in an effort to decide whether to "mix-it-up" himself or "let the boys fight it out."

Altogether it is a most alarming situation. I learned from a wigwam friend, and Mr. Murphy may have to follow Dick Croker back to Ireland as a sequel.

Foley is leader of the Bowery and he wields much more power than ever old Little and Big Tim Sullivan and their clan.

It was in 1901 that the sheriff with the help of Police Chief William S. Devery and Big Tim Sullivan, knocked down Paddy Dwyer and dragged him out of the leadership chair of the Second district.

For thirteen years the sheriff has reigned and his power has waxed. But in the last twelve months there have been serious clouds on the big leader's horizon. He was surprised in the spring of 1913 to find himself attacked at both ends of his bailiwick. In the north Michael Rofrano, a clever Italian-American set up his standard. In the south, just underneath the Brooklyn bridge, the brothers Driscoll, Clem and Gene, proclaimed their independence.

"These men are what they are through me," said Tom. "I befriended them and pushed them forward and now they are ridiculing me." 'Twas a good deal for a tactful Tammany leader to say.

Foley was so aggravated that he called Rofrano "an inflated little emigrant," and referred to Clem Driscoll as a "discredited little pinhead."

The latter was an allusion to Clem's career as first deputy commissioner of police. The late Mayor Gaynor had Clem clean up the dishonest tradesmen's scales, called him his "steam engine in boots" and finally gave him next to the best job in the force of guardians of the law here. Then Clem had a sudden heavy fall.

But Clem out of office turned his activities to ward politics. The result enraged Foley though his leadership was not seriously endangered. Then the "rebels" tried to send some Foley men to prison on allegations of election frauds.

The Driscolls and Rofrano were pretty small game for the sheriff's gun, but he learned State Senator James Frawley was letting the three use his office as a headquarters. 'Twas then the present storm broke.

Frawley is no mean foe himself. He has a solid upland East Side district in which he was born 44 years ago behind him, he has been senate leader and chairman of the finance committee since the death of Senator Thomas F. Grady, and he can claim Charley Murphy's gratitude as recent head of the legislative committee which prepared the evidence against Governor William Sulzer. He is said to be a millionaire.

It is around Murphy that the storm rages. Foley has demanded flatly that Murphy discipline Frawley, that he declare for one side or the other. Charley is gravely perplexed. If he tries to overthrow Frawley he has the legislature to reckon with, but if he fails to satisfy the sheriff he braves the ancient seat of power, the Bowery district, and that's worse. It would surprise no one if Foley grabbed Charley by the coat collar and booted him right into the Fourteenth street gutter.

Foley is out for blood. He believes Frawley had Rofrano appointed to the first deputyship of the street cleaning department in order to humiliate the Bowery leader. He has canvassed the executive committee of Tammany Hall thoroughly and the result has made him smile. He is assured of a majority of the committee, those who know say.

The war will come to a critical stage when Frawley gets back from Europe. Frawley is a member of the state Panama-Pacific committee, a side line of Tammany Hall this year, and is now in Germany studying expositions in order to learn how to run this one. He professes himself not troubled by Foley's indignation and as "ready to retire for the good of the organization if necessary to preserve peace." The old timers declare this is a dangerous pass. 'Tis an old Tammany trick to intimate retirement and lull the enemy into over-confidence just before delivering a body blow.

But the sheriff won't be caught napping—that's Gotham Knickerbocker's guess.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

9988.—A Stylish Dress For the Growing Girl.—Girls' Dress With Yoke, and With or Without Tunic. Long waisted effects are very popular for girls in their teens. The style here shown may be made with or without the tunic. The right front is shaped over the left, and the yoke portions, cut in "V" outline, are trimmed with a pretty collar. The sleeve is finished with an upturned cuff. Galatea, percale, gingham or chambray, pique, linen, linen, lawn, silk or challie are all good materials for this style. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. It requires 3 1/2 yards of 40 inch material for an 8 year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 10 cents in silver or stamps for our up-to-date 1914 Spring and Summer Catalogue, containing over 400 designs of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Patterns; also a concise and comprehensive article on dress-making, giving valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

OLIVE BRIDGE.

Olive Bridge, July 20.—The Ladies' Aid will hold a lawn party at the home of George Bishop on Tuesday evening, July 21. If stormy, then on Wednesday evening. Ice cream and cake will be served.

MURDEROUS BLOW BY INSANE MAN

Edward Boice Strikes His Daughter-in-Law With a Hammer, Without any Sane Reason, Inflicting Painful Injuries.

While apparently suffering from mental trouble, Edward Boice this morning made a murderous attack on his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jennie Boice, wife of Leonard Boice, at her home, 3 Ridge street. Mrs. Boice was lying in bed when her father-in-law came in the room and his son and wife inquired as to his health. Without warning Boice, who held a hammer behind his back, struck Mrs. Boice on the back of the head and as she turned to ward off another attack he struck her on the forehead. Her husband then grappled with his father and succeeded in subduing the crazed man. Dr. C. F. Keefe was summoned and found that Mrs. Boice had a scalp wound five inches long on the back of her head and another three inches long on her forehead. It is thought he struck a glancing blow, otherwise Mrs. Boice's skull must have been fractured. This afternoon Dr. Keefe and Health Officer Stelle made an examination to determine the assailant's sanity. He has been acting queerly for some time.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

The funeral of Silas W. Coutant, who died on Friday at his home in Schenectady, was held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Bloomington Church, with interment in Bloomington.

Edward Dodge died suddenly on Thursday at his home in Ashland, aged 52 years. He is survived by his wife, one sister, Mrs. Snow of Kingston, and one brother, F. L. Dodge, of Ashland. The funeral was held Sunday.

Mrs. Henry D. Gillespie, who had been in poor health for a long time and who injured herself severely by falling recently, died on Friday night at her home in Accord. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at the M. E. Church.

Martha Anna Bernhardt, daughter of Frederick and Anna Bernhardt, of New York, died on Sunday night. She was a granddaughter of Emil Voigt of West Hurley, where she had been visiting. Deceased was 16 years of age. The funeral will be held in New York on Tuesday, with interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

William H. Eckert, for more than 50 years connected with the First National Bank of Saugerties, being the cashier at the time of his being incapacitated for business, died early this morning at his residence on Lafayette street after a long illness, aged 71 years. He was a native of the town of Saugerties for many years and was respected and loved by all who knew him. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Eckert, and one daughter, Mrs. Harry Eckert, of Saugerties. The funeral arrangements will be made later.

Mrs. Davis Wilklow, wife of Theodore Wilklow, died at her home on Clinton avenue, Ellenville, on Thursday last after a long illness, in the 67th year of her age. Mrs. Wilklow is survived by her husband and one daughter of a former marriage, Mrs. Howard B. Dutcher, of Ellenville. The funeral was held from her late home Saturday afternoon in charge of the Rev. W. H. Moser of the M. E. Church in the absence of her pastor, the Rev. W. L. Steiner of the Reformed Church. The interment was made in the Fantielkill cemetery.

Gun Fighter Arrested.

Pietro Scolio, an Italian from Brown's Station was brought to the county jail on Saturday evening and was taken before Justice Buswell today for a hearing on a charge of felonious assault. Pietro is one of the men who it is alleged was mixed up in the recent shooting affray at that place. Belli, who did the shooting is still at liberty. Pietro has a bullet wound in the leg and walks with a limp.

Starvation In The Midst Of Poverty

Many are actually starving, even though eating heartily three times a day. They are starving because the usual diet lacks certain essential elements.

In making white flour, the outer coat of the wheat, containing the phosphate of potash and other vital mineral salts, is discarded. These mineral salts are absolutely necessary to nerve health and therefore to body health.

Grape-Nuts

contains the whole nutriment of wheat and barley, including the mineral salts. The making of the barley starts digestive processes and the 20-hour baking breaks down the starch cells. Grape-Nuts food digests in about one-third of the time required by white bread.

SOCIETY NOTES.

The Saturday afternoons at the Twaalfskill Club seem to grow in brilliancy as the season advances. Saturday was a superb day for golf and tennis. Mrs. R. H. S. McCurdy and Miss Margaret Loughran, assisted by Mrs. E. D. B. Loughran and Miss Marjorie Drake, were the hostesses. The decorations were of brilliantly colored gladioli, and there were many out of town guests.

Davis-Allen.

Miss Lavenia J. Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar V. Allen, and James E. Davis of Staples street were married on Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the parsonage of the Wurts Street Baptist Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. A. K. Fuller. The bride wore a pretty gown of tan colored tulle over white satin with white hat and carried bride roses. Their attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wood, brother-in-law of the groom. The bride received a beautiful array of costly presents including cut glass, silver, china, linen, etc. The groom's gift to the bride was a fine piano. Mrs. Davis is a charming and accomplished young woman. The groom is a faithful employee of the Hoysradt & Case machine works. They left during the evening for a short honeymoon trip and on their return will reside at 159 Smith avenue, where a handsomely furnished home awaits them. Their friends extend best wishes for a long and happy married life.

St. John's Church.

Owing to want of water power Sunday morning the organ recital was omitted. Next Sunday evening the recital will be given by H. Norman Taylor, assisted by Miss Florence Marchant. Miss Marchant, who has studied organ, and other branches of music with Mr. Taylor for the past two years, has just been appointed organist and musical director for the Reformed Church, at Saugerties.

Auction Near Krumville.

Emory Merrihew will sell at auction at his residence in the town of Marlborough, one and one-half miles south of Krumville, and one mile from Lalah Wager's on Saturday, August 1, at noon, one team of horses, two cows, a yearling colt and wagons, harness and other farming utensils. If the weather proves stormy the auction will be held on August 3 at noon.

German Gleanings.

Berlin has nearly 83,000 unmarried women. About 60 per cent of the population of Germany dwells in cities. Germany has, on an average, 806 orchard trees to the square mile. Of these there are 332 plum, 251 apple, 119 pear and 104 cherry. Collapsible water towers used by the Berlin fire department are but five feet long when closed, but can be extended to throw a level stream of water into the eighth floor of a building.

George L. Snyder has removed his harness making shop from Hasbrouck avenue, where he has been in business for 25 years, to New Salem, on the Manning farm, and where he and his family have resided since May 1.

Famous Regiment.

The Buffs, the famous old "Nut-crackers," of which the king of Denmark was appointed colonel-in-chief on his recent visit to England, are one of the oldest corps in the British army. They were evolved from the old trained band in the days of Elizabeth, and because of this ancient connection with the capital they have the privilege of marching through the city of London with fixed bayonets, beating drums and flying colors.

MAY PROVE "PLUCKING BOARD'S" NEMESIS.

(Captain John H. Gibbons, retired.) Washington, July 20.—That the beginning of the end for the navy "Plucking Board," charged with the duty of removing dead wood from the service, came with the retirement of John H. Gibbons as captain of the Utah, is the general opinion expressed here today. Indignation over the retirement of Gibbons has been country wide. Rear Admiral Knight, a member of the "Plucking Board," has admitted that the forced retirement of Gibbons was a loss to the navy.

Stretched Cane Seats.

When the cane seats of chairs have become stretched, take a teaspoonful of washing soda and dissolve in a quart of boiling water. Dip a cloth in this solution and wipe the underside of the seats, leaving the chair turned upside down to dry. This treatment will shrink the cane to its original size.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JULY 20, 1914.

Now that Huerta has been eliminated from the Mexican situation, the United States is in a position to pursue a new policy toward our southern neighbor. Nothing can be done to restore the lives and money which have already been wasted to no purpose, but it may be that President Wilson has learned a valuable lesson. There are only three reasonable plans to pursue. One is to keep hands off, recognizing whatever authority is for the moment supreme in the Mexican capital. Another is to forcibly occupy Mexico and administer its government as we do that of the Philippine Islands. Another is to call upon other powers to join us in the long and costly task of making Mexico a fit place for human beings to live in. We have already seen the results of a "betwixt and between" policy.

Most of our readers can remember how "Schedule K" of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law was denounced in the press and on the stump. It was represented that the duty on wool was compelling the poor man to wear cotton exclusively. The Democrats were elected to power on a platform promising free wool and they lost no time in keeping their pledge. What has been the result? The imports of wool during the first four months of 1914 were 36,160,186 pounds greater than during the corresponding period in the preceding year. According to reports made to the New York Journal of Commerce, sheep men in the West are rapidly disposing of their flocks because of fear of competition. The consumer finds that it is just as expensive as it ever was to wear wool garments. Nobody has been benefited except foreign wool-growers and middlemen. The "robber tariff" we used to have seems to have been a pretty good thing after all.

One of the dispatches from Mexico asserts that President Carranza's successor, is the best chess player in Mexico. Now, chess is a game in which luck has no part, and it is generally believed that a high order of intelligence is required to play it successfully. Dr. Lasker, the world's champion, has asserted repeatedly that the same qualities which enable a man to win at chess qualify him to be a successful general, politician or captain of big business. For some reason, however, great chess players seldom amount to much outside of the game. Napoleon gained the reputation of being as great a chess master as he was a general, but any one who will take the trouble to go over his recorded games cannot escape the conclusion that his opponents were beginners or else purposely let him win. The wonderful Morphy was a very poor lawyer. Most of the "masters" make a mess of their private affairs and generally die in poverty. Perhaps the explanation is that while luck is absent from chess it is a big factor in real life. Possibly intense study of a game governed by strict rules unites one for struggle in a game which has no rules which anybody obeys. We hope that Carabjal's skill in chess will enable him to checkmate his enemies, but we doubt it.

"He turned his steadfast gaze upon the stranger, and when the latter shrank from meeting it squarely he knew him for the criminal," is a characteristic passage from one of the new detective stories. All of us have heard this sort of thing before. If it were really true that guilt manifests itself by inability to look the accuser straight in the eye, the work of our courts of justice would be much easier. As a matter of fact, it is the rogue who is most certain to return a level gaze in kind. It is his stock in trade and he cultivates it. Moreover, it will pay the student of things as they are to observe carefully the eyes of those persons who say that somebody or other could not look them in the eye. Their eyes are usually so unpleasant to regard that any aesthetic person may be expected to glance aside. The individual with eyes like a fish or pigeon, or who is afflicted with squint or conjunctivitis usually has a sort of passion for staring at whomever he may be talking with, much to the discomfort of the latter. There are persons with roving, restless eyes, who seem unable to fix their gaze for more than a moment at a time, but they are not thereby marked as either rascals or saints, but merely as nervous folk.

A MILD REBELLION.

Someone tells of a plodding little woman away out in the Golden West who for 364 days out of the year moves along the even tenor of her way from 5:30 in the morning on to the time when the stars peep out overhead. If she has any dreams of release from the tasks that bind pretty hard, she says never a word, but steadfastly abides by her duty to her family.

But in the bright dawn of the morning of the 365th day she goes on a "strike." Instead of arising with the birds, preparing an early breakfast and going on and on with the routine of the day she contentedly remains in her room until she is quite sure that some other member of the family has breakfast on the table. Then milady appears arrayed in a manner that makes perfectly plain her plans for the day. After breakfast, she calmly and quite elegantly announces to her menfolk that she would "like a horse and buggy today."

And the menfolk as calmly proceed to obey, for they know that the peaceful "strike" has begun. In a twinkling, the family driving-horse and the shiniest buggy on the place stand before the door, and "Mother" majestically takes up the reins and rides away.

That's the last the family knows of her and her whereabouts for the day. When the shades of night are about to be drawn, back she comes with the trusty horse and shiny buggy, which are turned over to the waiting menfolk, while the tired, happy wanderer returns to the family fold, and leisurely relates the events of the day.

It is a bit strange to steal away in that fashion, but if that is her way of renewing herself for another long period of work, it is well; only one would suggest that she go rather oftener.

And in this connection, it's a new sort of "Mothers' Day" one hears of now and then—a Mothers' Day that drops on every Sunday. Back of the slogan, "Every Sunday Mothers' Day," stands a little band of reformers who are determinedly working for a safe and sane—Sunday dinner. You see, they claim that mothers—not the wealthy mothers, just the average kind—need one day of rest in seven, the same as is granted in all industrial circles for the sake of efficiency and the greater sake of the human machine. Mothers, these reformers say, instead of taking one day out of the seven to recuperate for the next and the next, proceed to make that one day the hardest of all. When Saturday night comes, the busy hum of machinery drives the mothers and workers drift to their homes for a long day of rest and a particularly good Sunday dinner.

But the kitchens remain wide-open, with mothers unselfishly contributing to the charm of the day for the others, while they bear the burden of much extra work. Everybody is home, nobody else is hurried and from earliest times, the Sunday dinner has been loudly extolled, and perhaps not even mothers themselves realize that they have been long overlooked while the economic principle of one day's rest out of seven has been recognized in all industrial circles.

And what are the reformers doing?

Well, for one thing, there's a Mothers and Daughters' Club, which means that mothers, to be eligible, must join with their daughters, and daughters with their mothers, and the daughters put their domestic science training to very practical use by stepping in the places of mothers for the Sunday dinner.

Then they are spreading abroad the gospel of simplicity and the cheerful reminder that long, long ago Sunday was planned as a day of rest for fathers and mothers, as well, and was never intended to be marked by a particularly heavy dinner with less chance for rest than usual.

Strange, is it not, that in spite of all we read and hear and see of the women who "toil not, neither do they spin," the women who dress and shop and motor and travel, the average woman goes on her working way the same as of old? For her, there is no big army of servants to come and go at command, no gay little tours over sea, no whims to come and go at will, no chance to sit down to big Sunday dinners in which she has taken no hand.

For the average woman is a working housekeeper, and release is not granted very often. Three meals a day, seven days a week—for the sake of her health, her spirits, her efficiency, it might be well if once or oftener, as the Sundays roll by, she would don her gala attire, like her sister in the west, and slip away from "the cares that infest the day."

For folk who have long been wedded to the satisfying institution known as the big Sunday dinner, scarcely appreciate all that it means to the home workers, who miss the day of rest that is counted very essential out in the great humming industries.

"It's a good idea—every Sunday Mothers' Day!"
FRANCES SHAFFER.

HANDLING THE FARM POULTS

Wing Feathers Should Be Pulled When the Youngsters Are From Four to Six Days Old.

According to some good authorities, little turkeys stand a better chance of living and thriving if long wing feathers are pulled when they are four to six days old. At this time they come out easily. No doubt this prevents too much strength being taken from their systems by the extreme growth of the long feathers that hang down (almost drag sometimes), giving the little birds an unthrifty appearance.

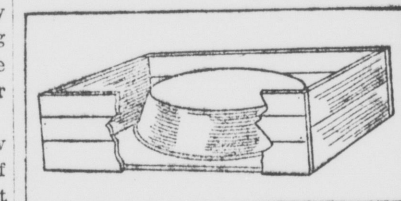

When turkeys are about two weeks old, says a writer in Inland Farmer, we begin to feed them just a little cracked wheat and other small grains such as chicks do well on, making the change by degrees. When feeding milk curd we sprinkle it lightly with charcoal occasionally; this helps prevent bowel trouble. And once in awhile when we are giving moistened feed we sprinkle it lightly with little chick grit.

If you find young turkeys drooping, the first thing to look for is lice and watch about feeding too much. On farm range a turkey hen will raise her flock with very little feed from the house; just enough to keep them tame and let them know they have a home. The little turks won't stand domesticating as a chick will. They have to have plenty of air; won't do to shut them in a close coop.

FEED PAN FOR THE POULTRY

Ordinary Vessel Placed in Shallow Box Makes Form for Concrete Receptacle for Fowls.

An excellent water or feeding pan for small chicks can be made of concrete. Take an old pan and place it in an inverted position in a shallow box, as shown in the sketch, then mix the concrete and pour it over the pan, says Popular Mechanics. When the cement sets, turn it over and a pan will be had that small chicks can climb out of, should they get into it.

Important in Breeding.

The most important thing in poultry breeding, or any other kind of stock breeding, is to have one desirable element predominating. That is totally wanting in the case of mongrels; nothing whatever is fixed about them, and the innumerable conflicting elements in their composition, each striving for mastery, only insure mediocrity.

Stealing a Nest.

A hen will use extreme caution when going to a stolen nest to lay and will cackle loudly leaving the nest. This is to discover the whereabouts of the rest of the fowls, as the male bird will answer her.

LEHAR WINS SLANDER SUIT VERDICT.

Vienna, July 20.—Popescu, the Rumanian composer who charged that Franz Lehár was using his compositions for his operetta "Endlich Allen," was heavily fined when Lehár's suit for slander terminated. The court considered that Lehár had been baselessly slandered and said he was a man of whom Austria was proud.

Milady's Mirror

Sensible Care of the Hair.

Most people, even those who are accustomed to give the hair careful attention, are careless of their locks while staying at the seashore. As a matter of fact, more destruction may be wrought there in a month than can be remedied in six.

Before entering the surf it is a good plan for bathers to place a wet sponge at the back of the neck and let the water fall down the spine. This is to equalize the temperature. If one plunges head first into the water there will be a sensation of dizziness and fullness in the head. This shock affects the scalp and incidentally the hair.

The very best treatment for hair at the seashore is first to use the wet sponge as directed and after coming from the water to take the juice of a lemon and pour over it a cupful of boiling water. When this is sufficiently cool saturate the hair with it and dry with warm towel. In ten minutes rinse off with warm water.

Shampoo the hair frequently, using the yolk of an egg well beaten with a cupful of hot water and twenty drops of the spirits of rosemary. Rub this into the scalp, and after ten minutes rinse with warm water and dry.

When inconvenient to shampoo brush the hair well and use the following scalp wash:

Extract of witch hazel, one pint; eau de cologne, eight ounces; chloroform, three drams.

This treatment will cleanse and make the hair soft, glossy and fluffy.

After the Sun Bath.

Many women who bathe in the ocean have no idea of the damage done to the hair by allowing it to dry by sitting in the sun upon the beach.

The salt, wet hair and the sun's rays combined have a decidedly injurious effect upon the coloring matter of the hair. It fades blond hair into streaks of dirty yellow and dark brown or black hair into burnt reddish color.

Also, it renders the hair bushy, harsh and brittle. Then the fine, sharp sand cuts and irritates the scalp to such a degree as to give the impression of a scalp disease having been contracted. In fact, this sometimes actually happens owing to the itching and consequent scratching of the scalp.

There are also germs and microbes in salt water which can, of course, take up their abode in the hair.

The Soap For Summer.

Be careful in regard to the kind of soap you use in summer, and only use soap in washing the face at the night toilet.

Pure castile soap is the very best kind to use. It does not dry the skin and leaves it smooth and soft. Both morning and night rinse the face in cold water after washing. This is a splendid complexion tonic.

Try softening the water in which you wash with a little oatmeal. The oatmeal should be sieved up in a thin muslin bag and allowed to soak in the water.

You've no idea how wonderfully refreshing to the skin it really is.

Bran Bag For the Skin.

Some women find soap irritating to the skin. The best thing to do in such a case is to use a bran bag instead. When the face is in need of a thorough cleansing, after a trip in the train, for instance, a cold cream bath will remove the dirt and the bran bath will finish the work in a satisfactory way.

To make a bran bag mix equal quantities of powdered oatmeal and bran together and to a pint add one-half cupful of powdered soap. To this add about one ounce of powdered orris root. Fill small bags and use in the bath.

Protection From the Sun.

Before going out, lightly dab a little nongreasy face cream over the skin and then dust lightly over with some very good face powder. This effectively protects the complexion from the evil effects of exposure to a very hot sun, which, in spite of its health giving properties, serves to dry and burn the skin, causing it to wrinkle also if one does not take some such simple precaution as that prescribed.

A little sunburn is becoming, but too much exposure to sun and air is fatal to all complexion beauty.

Nerve Tonic.

When you are tired and nervous a good rubbing all over the body with the lotion given here will be very restful. Lie quietly in bed after the rubbing for half an hour and you will then feel equal to taking up the daily tasks again. Take diluted alcohol, six ounces; cologne water, six ounces, and tannin, ten grains.

Autumn's Loss of Hair.

It is a well known fact that during the autumn the hair falls more freely than at any other season of the year; consequently one should really give the hair greater attention for some weeks previous and so prevent wholesale loss of it.

Skin Tonics.

Lemon, orange and cucumber peels are excellent for the complexion. Let them soak in water used for the bath, as they not only soften but tone and freshen the complexion, keeping the flesh healthy and firm.

Youth's Hardest Task.

"The training of children is a tremendously difficult task," says an editorial writer. No more difficult than the training of parents. Many children find the task of conquering the prejudices and old-fashioned ideas of father and mother almost hopeless.—Toledo Blade.

For the Children

Marie Danaher, Prize
Baby of Brooklyn.

© 1914, by American Press Association.

There was a great parade of babies in the borough of Brooklyn, New York city, a short time ago. It all came about through the advent of baby week, which was celebrated throughout the city. The parade was made in automobiles, and hundreds of little folks were in line, accompanied by their mothers and admirers. The president of the borough and other high officials reviewed the parade, together with thousands of people who are interested in the welfare of children. The winner of the prize given for the best baby in Brooklyn was little Miss Marie Danaher. Marie is twenty-seven months old, and she won with a percentage of 98.07. That means that she came pretty near being a perfect baby—that is, so far as health is concerned.

Behedings.

Whole, I am something you travel in. Behed me and you carry an umbrella to avoid me.

Whole, I am a vessel that sails the sea. Behed me and I am a part of you.

Whole, I am a useful piece of furniture. Behed me and I am found on the head.

Whole, I am a worthless person. Behed me and I am a place to live in outdoors.

Whole, I am a mark left from a wound. Behed me and I am a vehicle.

Whole, I am a monster fish. Behed me and I am well and robust.

Whole, I am a bright color. Behed me and I am a writing fluid.

Whole, I am a wintry element. Behed me and I am the present time.

Whole, I am something that grows. Behed me and I am not higher.

Answers.—Train, ship, chair, scamp, scar, whale, pink, snow, flower.

Riddles.

Why is a coward in a regiment like a good knife? Because he cuts when brought into action.

Why is a fish dealer never generous? Because his business makes him selfish.

What is it that is enough for one, too much for two and nothing for three and takes but one to make and two to keep? A secret.

Why is a girl not a noun? Because a lass (alas) is an interjection.

Why are lazy persons' beds too short for them? Because they lie too long in them.

Why is a kiss like a rumor? Because it goes from mouth to mouth.

An Extinct Bird.

The great auk, which once lived in great numbers along the North Atlantic coast, going in summer as far north as Iceland or Greenland, is now absolutely extinct. All that is left of this once great bird tribe is a few stuffed skins in museums. The auk was about the same size as a well-grown goose, and when standing erect had a height of about two feet. The pursuit of this awkward and harmless bird for its valuable feathers led to its final complete destruction.

Same Spelling, Two Meanings.

The words to fill the blanks are, in each sentence, spelled alike, but have different sounds and meanings.

1. The man's face began to _____ when he found he could not _____ berth in the sleeping car. _____ farmer must _____ corn in _____ have some for his _____ and her _____.

Answers: No. 1. Lower, lower. No. 2. Sow, sow.

Playing Tennis.

Tennis, tennis, on the lawn
On a summer's day!
One a side! Two a side!
Two or four can play!

Here's a dainty lady—
Alice is her name—
Standing with her bat in hand
Ready for the game.

Pretty little maiden,
May I play with you?
Or are you waiting for Little Boy Blue?

Can he see your finger
Raised above your head?
If your Boy Blue finger
May I play instead?

Pretty yellow butterfly,
Fly away—fly!
If a ball should hit you
Butterfly might die!

He Felt Encouraged.

"But she says she has never given you any encouragement." "Did she say that? She told me that her uncle was going to leave her a fortune, and that he had one foot in the grave. If that is not encouragement, I'd like to know what you call it."—Houston Post.

A GARDEN SANDWICH.

By JACK DUNAWAY.

There's a race on in the garden. An' the plants are in for fair, All a-surin' an' a-scrabblin'. Each intent on winnin' there. First the mustard mustered courage. Hintin' that they have a race. Said the lettuce, "Let us try it." An' the beanstalk set the pace. Then the pea come poidin' out there. In its swiftest, quickest way. An' the pop corn popped into it. Thinkin' fer to take the day. The potato vine started runnin'. An' the turnip turned up too. An' the beet then beat the record. 'Twas a simple thing to do. Till it realized that something was a-crowdin' on its tread. While the spud, whose eyes were open. Saw the cabbage make a head.

NEW SOIL ACIDITY TEST.

It is Expected to Prove a Better Way Than Use of Litmus Paper.

What is expected to prove a more positive test for soil acidity than the common litmus paper test, and one which, because of the cheap and harmless chemicals used in its operation, will be within the reach of the ordinary farmer, has been devised by E. Truog, instructor in the department of soils, college of agriculture of the University of Wisconsin.

The new test, it is believed, will be of especial benefit to county representatives and to field agents of the state soils laboratory, owing to the fact that it is simple to operate and approximate quantitative results can be secured in from ten to fifteen minutes. The new method consists of the addition to a sample of soil to be examined of zinc sulphide with small amounts of calcium chloride and water and boiling the mixture in a flask held over a small flame, preferably an alcohol lamp. Commercial lead acetate paper, which can be purchased at the drug store, when held in the fumes of the mixture for a few minutes will turn from light brown to a shiny black, according to the degree of acidity present in the soil. The natural color of the lead acetate paper is white, hence the discoloration can be plainly seen and will more accurately gauge the acidity in a soil than will the litmus paper test now in use in many sections.

The chemicals are perfectly safe for the layman to handle, and the complete apparatus, including flask and burner, ordinarily will not cost more than $2.

A Dahlia Hint.

This is the season to cut back dahlia stalks. Cut down stem and leave two leaves, one on each side from the ground. Cutting back forces branches and gives root strength. Of course it delays the bloom, but what results you get later in vigorous growth and abundance of flowers well repays for the loss of summer bloom.

Late August and fall flowers are matured better than those in the hot, dry weather. Cut the stalk with a sharp knife. Mutch the soil by working grass cuttings into it and give the top a good, healthy dressing.

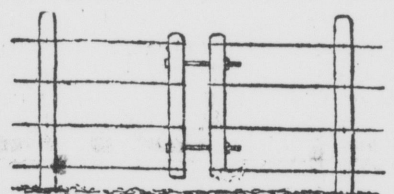

Such a mulch prevents baked soil. Besides, it holds moisture between rains. Catch rainwater in a bucket or barrel and use it to water your plants. It gives more nourishment than the spigot variety. Cow manure water forces a strong growth, and when fed to dahlias just at the time buds form the flowers will come stronger.

Dried blood spread upon the top soil acts as a fertilizer and gives color to the bloom.

For Tightening Fences.

In spite of the best care wire fences will become more or less slack after being up some time. The device shown herewith will take up this slack in a few minutes. It consists of two stout pieces of wood, to which the wires are firmly fastened, and two long bolts with long threads. The bolts pass through the wood and are tightened as occasion may require. Several of these tighteners may be placed in long lines of fence wherever it is convenient to put them.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

Don't permit any fruit to ripen on berry plants set this season, except on fall bearing strawberries.

Experienced growers do not pick berries for market when the fruit is wet, and they keep the crates in a cool place, out of the sun.

Surplus suckers in blackberry or red raspberry patches should be treated just like weeds, leaving only enough shoots for next year's fruiting.

The benefits of spraying are no longer questioned by progressive fruit growers. There may be seasons when it is not absolutely necessary, but no one can tell when the pleasures of that season will be experienced. As a safeguard for the quantity and quality of the fruit spraying is certainly indispensable.

ADVISED HUERTA TO QUIT MONTHS AGO.

(Gen. Porfirio Diaz.)

Paris, July 20.—Gen. Porfirio Diaz, former president of Mexico, said when the news came that Huerta had resigned, that he had advised the dictator to take this course months ago. Privately General Diaz has sharply criticized the U. S. policy but he has for some time held the opinion that Huerta's disappearance would facilitate a solution of the Mexican problem.

WILL SPENT HONEYMOON CROSSING ATLANTIC IN SMALL BOAT. (Mr. and Mrs. Signe Sivard and the power lifeboat in which they will try to cross the ocean.)

New York, July 20.—Mrs. Signe Sivard will be the first woman to cross the Atlantic in a small boat. She is planning to spend her honeymoon with her husband on his trip across the ocean to demonstrate the capabilities of his thirty-six foot power lifeboat to foreign shipbuilders. "No, this will not be my first long trip in a small boat," says Mrs. Sivard. "I once rowed two other girls from my home at Gothenburg to Fredrickshal and back—240 miles. The papers called us three girls in a boat."

Queer Prehistoric Dwellings in Mesa Verde National Park.

The Mesa Verde National park is situated in southwestern Colorado and may best be reached from Mancos. Within the park are many notable prehistoric ruins, the cliff dwellings comprising a group of great importance to the study of American archaeology. The principal and most accessible ruins are the Spruce Tree House, Cliff Palace, Balcony House and Tunnel House. Spruce Tree House is located in the head of Spruce Tree canyon, a branch of Navajo canyon. It originally contained about 130 rooms, built of dressed stone laid in adobe mortar, with the outside tiers chinked with chips of rock and broken pottery.

Cliff Palace is located about two miles east of Spruce Tree House, in a left branch of Cliff canyon, and consists of a group of houses with ruins of 146 rooms, including twenty round kivas or ceremonial rooms and a tapering looped porch forming a crescent of about 100 yards from horn to horn, which is reputed to be one of the most famous works of prehistoric man in existence.

Balcony House, a mile east of Cliff Palace, in Ruin canyon, contains about twenty-five rooms, some of which are in almost perfect condition.

Tunnel House, about two miles south of Spruce Tree House, contains about twenty rooms and two kivas, connected by an elaborate system of underground passages, and a burial ground of 5,000 square feet. In each of these villages is an elaborate system of fortification, with in some cases walls 2.5 feet thick and twenty feet high, watchtowers thirty feet high and blockhouses pierced with small loopholes for arrows.

THE DRY BATTERY.

Its Many Uses and the Numerous Processes in Its Making.

That common little object, the dry cell, has played an important part in the advancement of scientific research. There are few articles manufactured that are used in so many ways as the dry battery, yet it is by no means a recent discovery.

The automobile, motorboat, wireless telegraphic apparatus, Christmas tree festoons, electric toys and trains, electric engines, local bell, telephone and annunciator systems, miniature lighting equipments, medical batteries and vibrators, electric alarm clocks, burglar alarms, automatic door openers, safe cracking devices and infernal machines in their many forms, devices for setting off dynamite explosions in excavations, the various testing out of its and electric clock service, to say nothing of the divers ways that it is used in scientific experiments, are a few of the most obvious of its applications.

In its manufacture there are about as many processes as are necessary in the making of a tungsten lamp, and the machinery process that makes it and compounds the ingredients that go into it is wonderfully interesting. So exact is the formula placed into each shell that when completed a battery will register up to a uniform amperage. The highest known superage in the manufacture of a dry cell is twenty-six.

The exact origin of the dry battery is uncertain, many inventors having claimed the honor.—New York World.

LAWS OF NEW YORK.—By Authority.

AN ACT in relation to banking corporations, and individuals, partnerships, unincorporated associations, and other persons, in connection with the banking department, constituting chapter two of the consolidated laws.

Became a law April 16, 1914, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three days being present.

§ 170. Reports required by superintendent in case of failure to make.

Within ten days after service upon him of the notice provided for by section forty-two of this article, every such private banker shall make a written report to the superintendent of banks, which report shall be in the form and shall contain the matters prescribed by the superintendent and shall specifically state the items of permanent capital, deposits, specie and cash items, public securities and private securities, real estate and real estate securities, and such other items as may be necessary to inform the superintendent of the financial condition and solvency of which the superintendent may deem proper to include therein, and shall also state the amount of deposits with him, the payment of which in case of insolvency is preferred by law or otherwise over other depositors. It shall state in detail the particular assets in which the permanent capital of such private banker is invested. Every such report shall be verified by the oath of each private banker and of each member of a partnership or an unincorporated association of private bankers to the effect that the report is true and correct in all respects to the best of the knowledge and belief of such banker or bankers and that the usual business of such banker has been transacted at the location stated in the certificate required by section one hundred fifty-one of this article, and not elsewhere. In case of the disability or unavoidable absence of a member of a partnership or unincorporated association, such report may be verified by the other members; but the verification shall contain a statement of the reason for the failure of any member to sign and verify such report. After the thirty-first day of December nineteen hundred and eighteen, every such report shall be filed in thirty days after it shall have been filed with the superintendent by the private banker or private banker in charge of the place where such private banker is engaged in business or if no newspaper is published there, in the newspaper published nearest such place.

Every such private banker shall also make such other special reports to the superintendent as he may from time to time require in such form and on such dates as may be prescribed by the superintendent.

§ 171. Restrictions as to place of business.

A private banker shall not do business, or be located in the same room with, or in a building with any bank, trust company, savings bank, or national banking association.

§ 172. Violations of this article prohibited; penalty imposed.

Any individual, partnership or unincorporated association which violates this article shall be liable to a fine of not more than one hundred dollars for each day that it shall fail to report any such omitted matter, unless the time thereof shall have been extended by the superintendent, as provided by section forty-two of this article.

§ 173. Restrictions as to place of business.

A private banker shall not do business, or be located in the same room with, or in a building with any bank, trust company, savings bank, or national banking association.

§ 174. Violations of this article prohibited; penalty imposed.

Any individual, partnership or unincorporated association which violates this article shall be liable to a fine of not more than one hundred dollars for each day that it shall fail to report any such omitted matter, unless the time thereof shall have been extended by the superintendent, as provided by section forty-two of this article.

§ 175. Restrictions as to place of business.

A private banker shall not do business, or be located in the same room with, or in a building with any bank, trust company, savings bank, or national banking association.

§ 176. Violations of this article prohibited; penalty imposed.

Any individual, partnership or unincorporated association which violates this article shall be liable to a fine of not more than one hundred dollars for each day that it shall fail to report any such omitted matter, unless the time thereof shall have been extended by the superintendent, as provided by section forty-two of this article.

§ 177. Restrictions as to place of business.

A private banker shall not do business, or be located in the same room with, or in a building with any bank, trust company, savings bank, or national banking association.

Intendent, which reports shall be required by the superintendent to be verified in such form and on such dates as may be prescribed.

If any such private banker shall fail to make any report required by this section on or before the date designated for the making thereof or shall fail to include therein any matter required by the superintendent, such private banker shall forfeit to the people of the state the sum of one hundred dollars for every day that the making thereof or shall fail to include therein any matter required by the superintendent, as provided by section forty-two of this article.

§ 171. Restrictions as to place of business.

A private banker shall not do business, or be located in the same room with, or in a building with any bank, trust company, savings bank, or national banking association.

§ 172. Violations of this article prohibited; penalty imposed.

Any individual, partnership or unincorporated association which violates this article shall be liable to a fine of not more than one hundred dollars for each day that it shall fail to report any such omitted matter, unless the time thereof shall have been extended by the superintendent, as provided by section forty-two of this article.

§ 173. Restrictions as to place of business.

A private banker shall not do business, or be located in the same room with, or in a building with any bank, trust company, savings bank, or national banking association.

A private banker shall not do business, or be located in the same room with, or in a building with any bank, trust company, savings bank, or national banking association.

each state bank and trust company organized and doing business in the village, borough or city, if in a city not divided into boroughs, specified as the location of the proposed trust company by mailing such copy, postage prepaid, to said banks and trust companies, and to the superintendent of banks, and to the clerk of the court of sessions of the county in which the proposed trust company is to be organized.

§ 182. Submitting organization certificate to superintendent; proof of publication and service of notice of intention.

After the lapse of at least twenty-eight days from the date of the first day of publication of the notice of intention to organize and within ten days after the date of the last publication thereof, the proposed trust company shall submit in duplicate, to the superintendent of banks, a certificate in duplicate, which shall be submitted to the superintendent of banks at his office together with affidavits or other evidence satisfactory to him showing due publication and service of the notice of intention to organize prescribed in section one hundred eighty-one of this article.

§ 183. When corporate existence begins; conditions precedent to commencing business.

When the superintendent shall have endorsed his approval on the organization certificate, as provided by section twenty-three of this article, the corporation shall begin, and it shall then have power to elect officers and transact such other business as relates to its organization. But the trust company shall transact no other business until it has been approved by the superintendent of banks.

All of its capital stock shall have been fully paid in cash and an affidavit stating that it has been so paid, subscribed and sworn to by its two principal officers shall have been filed in the clerk's office of the county in which its principal office is located and a certified copy thereof in the office of the superintendent of banks. The superintendent shall then issue to the office of the superintendent a list of its stockholders, verified by two of its principal officers, giving the name, residence, post-office address and number of shares of stock held by each stockholder.

§ 184. Deposit of securities with superintendent.

Every trust company shall, until an order of the supreme court is obtained declaring the business of the trust company closed, keep on deposit with the superintendent of banks, in the name of the trust company, or of the United States or of this state, or of any city, county, town, village or free school district in this state, authorized by the legislature to be issued, a certificate of deposit for ten per centum of its capital stock, but not less in any case than:

1. One hundred thousand dollars, if its principal place of business is located in a city the population of which exceeds five hundred thousand;

2. Fifty thousand dollars, if its principal place of business is located in a city the population of which exceeds one hundred thousand;

3. Twenty thousand dollars, if its principal place of business is located in a city the population of which exceeds fifty thousand; and

4. Ten thousand dollars, if its principal place of business is located elsewhere in this state.

Such securities shall be registered in the name of the superintendent of banks of the state of New York in trust for the creditors and interest of the trust company and subject to sale and transfer, and to the disposal of the proceeds thereof by the superintendent only on the order of a court of competent jurisdiction. The trust company, so long as it shall continue solvent and comply with the laws of the state, may be permitted by the superintendent to collect the interest on the securities so deposited and to use the same for the payment of securities for others as provided by section thirty-five of this chapter, and may examine and compare such securities as provided by section thirty-six of this chapter.

§ 185. General powers.

In addition to the powers conferred by the general and stock corporation laws, every trust company shall, subject to the restrictions and limitations hereinafter set forth, have the following powers:

1. To act as the fiscal or transfer agent of the United States, of any state, municipality, borough, village, or city, or of any other political subdivision, and to receive and disburse money, to transfer, register and counter-sign certificates of stock, bonds or other securities of the United States, of any state, municipality, borough, village, or city, or of any other political subdivision, or of any person or corporation, foreign or domestic, for any lawful purpose.

2. To execute and negotiate promissory notes, drafts, bills of exchange and other evidences of debt; buy and sell exchange, coin and bullion; lend money on real or personal securities; and to receive deposits of money, securities, real estate, or other property from any person or corporation upon such terms as the company shall prescribe.

3. To lease, hold, purchase and convey any and all real property necessary in the transaction of its business, or which the purposes of the corporation may require, or which it shall anywhere acquire in settlement of its debts, or which it may acquire by gift, or which it may acquire by purchase, or which it may acquire by lease, or which it may acquire by mortgage, or which it may acquire by deed, or which it may acquire by any other means.

So exact is the formula placed into each shell that when completed a battery will register up to a uniform amperage. The highest known supercharge in the manufacture of a dry cell is twenty-six.

The exact origin of the dry battery is uncertain, many inventors having claimed the honor.—New York World.

LAWS OF NEW YORK.—By Authority.

CHAP. 385.

AN ACT in relation to banking corporations, and individuals, partnerships, unincorporated associations and corporations under the supervision of the banking department, constituting chapter two of the consolidated laws of this state.

Became a law April 15, 1914, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

§ 170. Reports required by superintendent; penalty for failure to make.

Within ten days after service upon him of the notice provided for by section forty-two of this article, every such private banker shall make a written report to the superintendent of banks, which report shall be in the form and shall contain the matters prescribed by the superintendent and shall specify the items of permanent capital, deposits, specie and cash items, public securities and private securities, real estate and real estate securities and such other items as may be necessary to inform the public as to his financial condition and solvency or which the superintendent may deem proper to include therein, and shall also state the amount of deposits with him, the payment of which in case of insolvency is preferred by law or otherwise over other deposits. It shall state in detail the particular assets in which the permanent capital of such private banker is invested. Every such report shall be verified by the oath of such private banker and of each member of a partnership or an unincorporated association of private bankers to the effect that the report is true and correct in all respects to the best of the knowledge and belief of such banker or bankers and that the usual business of such banker has been transacted at the location stated in the certificate required by section one hundred and fifty-one of this article, and not elsewhere. In case of the disability or unavoidable absence of a member of a partnership or unincorporated association, such report may be verified by the other members, but the verification shall contain a statement of the reason for the failure of any member to sign and verify such report. After the thirty-first day of December nineteen hundred and eighteen, every such report shall be filed with the superintendent and be published by such private banker in one newspaper of the place where such private banker is engaged in business, and also in such form and on such dates as may be prescribed by the superintendent.

the superintendent which report shall be required by the superintendent to be verified in such form as he may prescribe.

If any such private banker shall fail to make any report required by this section on or before the date designated for the making thereof or shall fail to include therein any matter required by the superintendent, such private banker shall be liable to the people of the state the sum of one hundred dollars for every day that such report shall be delayed or withheld and for every day that it shall fail to contain any such matter, unless the time therefor shall have been extended by the superintendent, as provided by section forty-nine of this chapter.

§ 171. Restrictions as to place of business.

private banker shall not do business, or be located in the same room, or in a room connecting with any bank, trust company, savings bank, or national banking association.

§ 172. Violations of this article prohibited.

No individual, partnership or unincorporated association to which this chapter is applicable shall, after the thirty-first day of July, nineteen hundred and fourteen, engage in or continue in business in any city as a private banker unless the superintendent of banks shall have issued an authorization certificate to him or them and shall have filed such certificate in his office, and such authorization certificate shall be subject to the provisions of section one hundred and sixty of this article.

Any individual, partnership or unincorporated association violating the provisions of this section shall forfeit to the people of the state the sum of two hundred dollars for every day after the aforesaid date that such individual, partnership or unincorporated association shall engage in or continue in business as such private banker or bankers.

§ 221. Prohibition against encroachments on powers.

§ 180. Incorporation; organization certificate.

When authorized by the superintendent of banks as provided by section twenty-three of this chapter, seven or more persons may form a corporation to be known as a trust company. Such persons shall subscribe and acknowledge an organization certificate in duplicate, which shall specify the following matters:

1. The name by which the trust company is to be known.

2. The place where its business is to be transacted.

3. The amount of its capital stock, and the number of shares into which such capital stock shall be divided, which capital stock shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars.

(a) One hundred thousand dollars, if the place where its business is to be transacted is an incorporated or unincorporated village or city the population of which does not exceed twenty-five thousand.

(b) One hundred and fifty thousand dollars, if the place where its business is to be transacted is a city the population of which exceeds twenty-five thousand but does not exceed one hundred thousand.

(c) Two hundred thousand dollars, if the place where its business is to be transacted is a city the population of which exceeds one hundred thousand but does not exceed two hundred and fifty thousand.

(d) Five hundred thousand dollars, if the place where its business is to be transacted is a city the population of which exceeds two hundred and fifty thousand.

4. The names and places of residence of the incorporators.

5. The term of its existence, which may be perpetual.

6. A declaration that each incorporator will accept the responsibilities faithfully discharge the duties of a director therein if elected to act as such when authorized by the provisions of this chapter.

Such certificate may provide for the manner in which the stock of the corporation may be transferred and for the number of directors necessary to constitute a quorum.

§ 181. Notice of intention to organize; filing, publication and service upon existing banks and trust companies.

At the time of executing such organization certificate, the proposed incorporators shall sign a notice of intention to organize such trust company which shall specify their names, the name of the proposed corporation, the amount of its capital stock, and its location as set forth in the organization certificate. The original of such notice shall be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks within sixty days after the date of execution, and a copy thereof shall be published at least once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper designated by the superintendent as provided in section twenty of this chapter, such publication to be commenced within thirty days after such designation. A copy of such notice shall, at least fifteen days before the organization certificate is filed with the superintendent for examination, be served upon each state bank and trust company organized and doing business in the village, borough or city, in a city or village, in which the proposed trust company by mailing such copy, postage prepaid, to said banks and trust companies.

§ 182. Submitting organization certificate to superintendent; notice of publication and service of notice of intention.

After the lapse of at least twenty-eight days from the date of the first day of publication of the notice of intention to organize and within thirty days after the date of the last publication thereof, the organization certificate, executed in duplicate, shall be submitted to the superintendent of banks at his office together with affidavits or other evidence satisfactory to him showing due publication and service of the notice of intention to organize prescribed in section one hundred eighty-one of this article.

§ 183. When corporate existence begins; conditions precedent to commencing business.

When the superintendent shall have endorsed his approval on the organization certificate, as provided by section twenty-three of this chapter, the corporate existence of such trust company shall begin, and it shall then have power to elect officers and transact such other business as relates to its organization. But the trust company shall transact no other business until:

1. All of its capital stock shall have been fully paid in cash and an affidavit stating that it has been so paid, subscribed and sworn to by its two principal officers shall have been filed in the clerk's office of the state in which the principal office is located, and a certified copy thereof in the office of the superintendent;

2. It shall have filed in the office of the superintendent a list of its stockholders, verified by two of its principal officers, giving the name, residence, post-office address and number of shares of stock held by each stockholder;

3. It shall have made the deposit with the superintendent of securities in one hundred eighty-four of this article;

4. The superintendent shall have duly issued to it the authorization certificate specified in section twenty-four of this chapter.

§ 184. Deposit of securities with superintendent.

Every trust company shall, until the order of the supreme court is obtained declaring the business of the trust company closed, keep on deposit with the superintendent of banks in the name of the trust company, or of the United States or of this state, or of any city, county, town, village or free school district in this state, authorized by the legislature to be issued, to the amount in value of ten per centum of its capital stock, but not less in any case than:

1. One hundred thousand dollars, if its principal place of business is located in a city the population of which exceeds five hundred thousand;

2. Fifty thousand dollars, if its principal place of business is located in a city the population of which exceeds one hundred thousand but does not exceed five hundred thousand;

3. Thirty thousand dollars, if its principal place of business is located in a city the population of which exceeds twenty-five thousand and does not exceed one hundred thousand;

4. Twenty thousand dollars, if its principal place of business is located elsewhere in this state.

Such securities shall be registered in the name of the superintendent of banks of the state of New York in trust for the creditors of and depositors with such trust company and subject to sale and transfer, and to the disposal of the proceeds thereof by the superintendent only on the order of a court of competent jurisdiction. The trust company, so long as it shall continue solvent and comply with the laws of the state, may be permitted by the superintendent to collect the interest on the securities deposited and from time to time to exchange such securities for others as provided by section thirty-five of this chapter, and may examine and compare such securities as provided by section thirty-six of this chapter.

§ 185. General powers.

In addition to the powers conferred by the general and stock corporation laws, every trust company shall, subject to the restrictions and limitations contained in this article, have the following powers:

1. To act as the fiscal or transfer agent of the United States, of any state, municipality, body politic or corporation; and in such capacity to receive, hold, transfer, money, to transfer, register and counter-sign certificates of stock, bonds or other evidences of indebtedness, and to act as attorney in fact and agent of any person, partnership, corporation, foreign or domestic, for any lawful purpose.

New York, July 20.—A strike of baseball players under contract to clubs in the American and National Leagues has been ordered by David L. Fultz, president of the Players' Fraternity, who sent an ultimatum to the National commission today.

Mr. Fultz also mailed orders for a walkout of players in both major leagues on Wednesday morning, providing the commission by that time has not rescinded its ruling in the case of Player Kraft, who, according to Fultz, must draw a salary from the Newark club in the International League, instead of the Nashville club in the Southern Association, which owns him.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 20.—Attention centered on Union Pacific at opening of the stock market today when this issue selling minus the dividend of 30 1/2 begun at the price of 126 against 157 1/2 at the close on Saturday. This price represented a loss of 1/2. The special dividend was brought about by the distribution of Baltimore and Ohio shares which were held in the Union Pacific treasury. Trading in this issue was brisk. From 126 the price moved up to 126 1/2 and then to 126 3/4. First transactions were generally made at prices ranging from 1/4 to 3/4 under the level prevailing at the close on Saturday but before half an hour had expired the tone had strengthened and stocks had rallied from their lowest. Considerable of from liquidation in American shares in Europe. Among the opening losses were: Utah Copper, 1/4; United States Steel Common, 1/4; Southern Railway, 3/4; Lehigh Valley, 1/4; Southern Pacific, 1/4; Baltimore & Ohio, 1/4; Pressed Steel Car, 1/4; New York New Haven & Hartford, 1/4; New York Central, 1/4; Amalgamated Copper, 3/4; American Can, 1/4; C. & O., 1/4. American Smelting and Canadian Pacific were fractionally higher. Reading after opening unchanged made a slight gain. The Curb was steady. Americans in London were weak.

2:30 p. m.—Price changes in the last hour were downward and in most cases were under the morning range. Pressure against the big blocks of stocks thrown on the market in consequence of the Union Pacific distribution held around 82 1/2, a net loss of 1 1/2 on the day. Steel held around 60 1/4. New York, New Haven and Hartford sold to 53 against 54 at the opening. The tone was heavy.

LOCAL BASEBALL DOINGS.

Games Played or to be Played by the Home Teams.

Victory again perched on the banners of the Red Monograms in their game with the Rhinecliff team at McVey's field on Sunday afternoon. Eddie Sherer, the star twirler of the locals, was in fine form and was ably held up by Cregan and the other members of the team. The final score was 3 to 1. Conlin and Robins were in the points for the visitors but were not given the support which the local battery received.

On Saturday afternoon the Fuller A. C. defeated the baseball team of the lace mills at the athletic field a score of 10 to 7. The game was close and exciting. Rowland and Ryan were on the mound for the Fuller A. C., with Auchmoody and Lebert behind the plate. The battery for the lace mills was Bush and English. The Fuller A. C. is anxious to meet other amateur teams in the city and any one wishing to arrange games should address the "manager, baseball team" at Fuller's shirt factory.

The Crescents defeated the Manor Stars in a fast game of ball on Sunday afternoon by a score of 7 to 5. Lenninger and Baylor were the battery for the Crescents while Van Buren and Johnson were the battery for the Stars. Next Sunday the Crescents will go to Rifton, where they will play the fast Tillson team. Soper and Baylor will pitch and catch for the Crescents and Williams, the star Rifton pitcher, will serve the slants for the Tillson team.

The baseball game between the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church and the Rondout Presbyterian Church which was to be played last Saturday, was forfeited to the Clinton Avenue team as their opponents did not show up.

Accident at New School.

An Italian employed by George T. Kelly, of the new high school job on Broadway, had his arm broken this afternoon. He was taken to the Kingston City Hospital.

Excursion at the Point.

A large crowd of young people from the Calvary Evangelical Church of Albany came to Kingston Point Saturday on an excursion. They returned home on the day boat.

At the Sanitarium.

Mrs. Mary McRay of 41 Clinton Avenue was removed to the Benedictine Sanitarium this morning by Dr. Fred Snyder for treatment.

At Rifle Practice.

The boys of Company M spent today at the butts at Mutton Hollow range at rifle practice.

St. John's Church Notes.

Great preparations are being made by the members of St. John's Sunday school for the coming Sunday school picnic to be held this coming Saturday. All the boys and girls of the Sunday school should go to St. John's parish house tomorrow, Tuesday, morning between the hours of 10 and 12 o'clock to get their free tickets for the excursion. Then on Saturday morning, July 25, all who go on the excursion will meet at the Central Hudson Steamboat dock at the foot of Broadway and board the steamer Odell for a sail to Newburgh. From Newburgh the excursionists will take the trolley cars to Orange Lake, where the day will be spent. This will mean a delightful outing for all who go, and tickets may be purchased by friends of the church and Sunday school at St. John's rectory on Green street, of the ladies of the church and at Winter's music store on John street. The tickets will be fifty cents for grown up people and twenty-five cents for children. All the children of the church must be sure and be at the parish house tomorrow morning to get their tickets. Saturday, July 25, being St. James Day, there will be a celebration of the holy communion at St. John's Church at 9 o'clock in the morning. Owing to the low pressure of water on Sunday the organ recital to be given by Organist Norman Taylor of St. John's Church had to be omitted, as the pipe organ could not be used, the little cabinet organ having to be substituted in its place. Next Sunday evening, when it is expected that the pressure will be right, the promised organ recital will be given after the brief evening service. During the month of August, the Rev. M. Geisel of Kansas City, who spent some time in Kingston last year, will officiate at St. John's Church. As there will be no communion service during Mr. Geisel's administration in the church, there will be a celebration of the holy communion at the half past ten o'clock service next Sunday morning instead of on the first Sunday in August. All members of the parish are asked to take note of this change.

43 NORTH FRONT ST. HOME OF PECK CLOTHES

LOCAL BASEBALL DOINGS.

Games Played or to be Played by the Home Teams.

Victory again perched on the banners of the Red Monograms in their game with the Rhinecliff team at McVey's field on Sunday afternoon. Eddie Sherer, the star twirler of the locals, was in fine form and was ably held up by Cregan and the other members of the team. The final score was 3 to 1. Conlin and Robins were in the points for the visitors but were not given the support which the local battery received.

On Saturday afternoon the Fuller A. C. defeated the baseball team of the lace mills at the athletic field by a score of 10 to 7. The game was close and exciting. Rowland and Ryan were on the mound for the Fuller A. C. with Auchmoody and Lebert behind the plate. The battery for the lace mills was Bush and English. The Fuller A. C. is anxious to meet other amateur teams in the city and any one wishing to arrange games should address the "manager, baseball team" at Fuller's shirt factory.

The Crescents defeated the Manor Stars in a fast game of ball on Sunday afternoon by a score of 7 to 3. Lenninger and Baylor were the battery for the Crescents while Van Buren and Johnson were the battery for the Stars. Next Sunday the Crescents will go to Rifton, where they will play the fast Tillson team. Soper and Baylor will pitch and catch for the Crescents and Williams, the star Rifton pitcher, will serve the slants for the Tillson team.

The baseball game between the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church and the Roundout Presbyterian Church which was to be played last Saturday, was forfeited to the Clinton avenue team as their opponents did not show up.

Accident at New School.

An Italian employed by George T. Kelly, of the new high school job on Broadway, had his arm broken this afternoon. He was taken to the Kingston City Hospital.

Chicago Grain Markets.

Wheat—July, 79 1/2c asked; September, 79c; December, 82c asked. Corn—July, 70 1/2c; September, 67 1/2c; December, 56 1/2c. Oats—May, 39 1/2c asked; July, 36 1/2c asked; September, 35 1/2c; December, 36 1/2c.

Excursion at the Point.

A large crowd of young people from the Calvary Evangelical Church of Albany came to Kingston Point Saturday on an excursion. They returned home on the day boat.

At the Sanitarium.

Mrs. Mary McRay of 41 Clinton avenue was removed to the Benedictine Sanitarium this morning by Dr. Fred Snyder for treatment.

At Rifle Practice.

The boys of Company M spent today at the butts at Matton Hollow range at rifle practice.

St. John's Church Notes.

Great preparations are being made by the members of St. John's Sunday school for the coming Sunday school picnic to be held this coming Saturday. All the boys and girls of the Sunday school should go to St. John's parish house tomorrow, Tuesday, morning between the hours of 10 and 12 o'clock to get their free tickets for the excursion. Then on Saturday morning, July 25, all who go on the excursion will meet at the Central Hudson Steamboat dock at the foot of Broadway and board the steamer Odell for a sail to Newburgh. From Newburgh the excursionists will take the trolley cars to Orange Lake, where the day will be spent. This will mean a delightful outing for all who go, and tickets may be purchased by friends of the church and Sunday school at St. John's rectory on Green street, of the ladies of the church and at Winter's music store on John street. The tickets will be 15 cents for grown up people and 10 cents for children.

Twenty-five cents for children. All the children of the church must be sure and be at the parish house tomorrow morning to get their tickets. Saturday, July 25, being St. James Day, there will be a celebration of the holy communion at St. John's Church at 9 o'clock in the morning. Owing to the low pressure of water on Sunday the organ recital to be given by Organist Norman Taylor of St. John's Church had to be omitted, as the pipe organ could not be used, the little cabinet organ having to be substituted in its place. Next Sunday evening, when it is expected that the pressure will be right, the promised organ recital will be given after the brief evening service. During the month of August, the Rev. M. Geisel of Kansas City, who spent some time in Kingston last year, will officiate at St. John's Church. As there will be no communion service during Mr. Geisel's administration in the church, there will be a celebration of the holy communion at the half past ten o'clock service next Sunday morning instead of on the first Sunday in August. All members of the parish are asked to take note of this change.
